

1st Friday

Dear All,

I have the feeling that you have worked very hard over these past days and that you will probably have worked a lot at a level or levels deeper than conscious awareness. You richly deserve the week-end break. Me too!

I want us to do a couple of activities that help you revisit your week and then we need to have a good look at what you want from next week. I hope I can deal sensibly with what your wants turn out to be.

Week-end homework, if I dare to suggest it. ^① I'd love to get a letter from each person on ~~the~~ Monday. [No, don't ask me what about!]

^② Please buy a magazine you would never buy back home, eg: G. . . buys a knitting mag while D invests in a boxing mag! Come ready to (a) describe the mag's readership (b) report on an article (c) report analytically on the writing style. Have fun vi