

Dear J.

I couldn't help noticing two things last night: (1) the way you enjoyed being in a decent sized group, away from 1-2-1 and 1-2-2. To me you seemed radiant, if I may say so.

(2) as I thought about your job, just what a powerfully useful tool NLP would be in your hands and what a powerful NLPer you would rapidly become. I feel you have a natural aptitude in this area.

It is a ~~great~~ privilege to meet as good a communicator as good as you and this ability largely helps in the acquisition of a second language

Warmly yours,
