

Dear Second-Last-Day People,

Q

I hope you have enjoyed and found useful things in your work with Chaz and P. on music and portfolio. I am writing these lines to you on the train to the Great Wen and I am still in the thrall of the brilliance of H. lesson and our brilliance in positioning ULLUM, /anaama/ataata/aquagu etc in our homes. When there is brilliance, then there is often also joy and thrill. We met this unknown language - we took its words, its sounds, its spellings and DOMESTICATED them in the most ^{literal} ~~literal~~ sense. I now feel quite close to these unfamiliar encodings. I begin to be in Greenlandic, a little bit, not just to have. I begin to understand (Bonnie-Perkins) not simply to know. Wow!!
