

Hamburg Group,

End of course Friday,

Hi Folks,

The lady in the Old People's Home with the with the soft voice and the loud laugh, the lady whom A [REDACTED] has visited over the last five years,.....this lady is very strong in my mind.

Do you recall her clearly?

I was stuck by how important the phone was when there was a virus for three weeks in the home.

A [REDACTED] appeared to be (seemed to be) really happy role-playing this elderly lady.

Who was it who role-played a barber, a woman barber?

Yes, I think it was B [REDACTED] who role-played her best friend, the Danish one.

Am I right?

Let us look at some words from the tale of the Philosopher and the Two Barbers .

Is the Sahara Desert very small or is it immense?

When did you last have a haircut?

Is your kitchen back home sometimes in a real mess with sieves and pans everywhere?

Do you know any wise men or any wise women?

Do you take a long time make up your mind or do you decide quickly?

Why did the philosopher jump to his feet?

Did the philosopher walk with small steps or did he stride over to the second barber's shop?

I reckon W [REDACTED] must have a very kind host family. They seem to have done his homework for him!!!! Do you remember the very clear text on education and schools?

Anne's host family feel that the 11 + plus exam is not a good one. If the child fails this exam he goes to a comprehensive school . If he passes the exam he goes to grammar school.

The youngest child in O [REDACTED]'s host family, I think Number four, still goes to nursery school.
