Dear Y ■■■

I found your description of your work fascinating.

I learnt a great deal.

However, I noticed you were thinking entirely in French and then translating into English.

So, pedagogically, I feel the second hour yesterday morning was a disastrously bad lesson.

I apologise.

I feel we need to talk about areas that are simpler than your work.

I need to do all I can to help you to go directly into English, without thinking in French first.

For this to happen what you are saying needs to be simple.

This morning I will tell you about an important moment in my life.

Please prepare to tell me about an important moment in your life.

I will talk to you about Tuesday September 11th 1973 in Chile and also about Friday September 14th, again in Chile.

Warmly yours,

Mario
